Job Overview

ome join Intuit as a Principal, Business Operations within the Intuit Customer Success organization. We are seeking a strategic and creative problem solver to help shape the Customer Success strategy, drive organizational alignment, and enable growth through operational excellence.

As a key leader within the Customer Success Business Operations team, you will partner with executive leadership and cross-functional teams in the Mid-Market space to drive strategic planning, lead critical initiatives, and ensure successful execution of top business priorities. This role plays a vital part in connecting our mission to strategy to outcomes, bringing rigor and discipline to our planning processes, and delivering measurable impact for both customers and the company.

Responsibilities

- Lead the development of new strategic goals during annual planning, partnering with senior leadership and cross-functional stakeholders to develop our strategy
- Identify and drive opportunities to improve our operating model (how we work as an organization) and key processes to accelerate growth, decision-making and results delivery at scale for our customers
- Conduct data-driven analysis on our planning and operations results to drive changes in process and outcomes over time, aiming to deliver outsized value for our internal teams and customers
- Frame decisions and lead discussions with senior stakeholders to drive decision-making, communicate results, and develop solutions and plans for change management to address business performance challenges
- Develop and maintain relationships with cross-functional stakeholders throughout Intuit at all levels of seniority to jointly develop solutions to complex business problems and ensure we are operating within the broader Intuit-wide annual and quarterly planning processes
- Develop and communicate the Leader's strategy, business, and people (team & culture) agenda; drive planning for town halls, off site visits and other high visibility, critical leadership meetings

Give Feedback

- Relentless drive for excellence, pushing boundaries, challenging the status quo, and bringing a sense of urgency to execution
- 8+ years of experience in strategy & operations, management consulting, finance, analytics or operations at a top company. Strong business acumen, financial acumen, and data-driven decision-making skills with experience building financial or analytical models.
- Ability to operate and think at both a “10,000 foot” strategy level (e.g. framing and conducting analysis to recommend changes to our long-term goals) and closer to the ground (e.g. recommendations to improve quarterly performance against an operational metric, and follow through with execution)
- Strong verbal and written communication skills; experience with communicating effectively and concisely through multiple channels to all levels of an organization, from senior executives to front-line managers
- Ability to manage conflicting stakeholder interests, develop strong relationships, and influence stakeholders at all levels in a cross-functional environment
- Ability to identify and address key barriers to growth in an environment with high levels of ambiguity and visibility from senior stakeholders

"On the journey to my current role, I interviewed for two other roles and didn't get them. I'll be honest, it stung when I didn't get them. But, it turns out, the feedback I received was invaluable and really helped zero in on the right role for me and for Intuit."
